The year 1864-65 has been an unusually prosperous one to the University, and at no time has there been so much college and class feeling and so many excellent enterprises carried through. The Glee Club, which was organized three years ago, and which has already won for itself honourable laurels, has given, during this college year, four concerts, viz.:—at Chester Hills, Montgomery county, Pa., on Wednesday, January 23rd; at the Soldiers' Reading Room, Reading, on February 22d; at Bridgeton, Cumberland county, N. J., on March 28th, for the benefit of the Ladies Soldiers' Relief Association of that place; and at the Hall of the University, on Monday, May 15th, for the publishing fund of the Club. At the concert last year (May 23d), over two hundred dollars was realized for the Club. The Club intend publishing, next autumn, a Glee Book of the University, especially for University Songs, but which will also contain the old favourites of all colleges, and many of the beautiful student songs of the German Universities. It is proposed to get this book up by subscription at $1 50 a copy, the money to be paid on receipt of the book; and it is hoped that the Alumni, Graduates, and all friends of the University, as well as the lovers of college music generally, will assist this enterprise. The receipts and remittances of subscribers and the number of copies desired, may be sent in, until September, to John C. Sims, Jr., Secretary of the Club, Cape Island, N. J., or handed in to any member of the Club.

The Class of Sixty-five has been the most energetic class which has graduated for years. To its credit is due the present class spirit of the College and the flourishing condition of all the Societies. Altogether it has numbered sixty members, but the war and other causes have called off so many that it will graduate but twenty-four. Two of its number have been laid under the sod: William Wood Montgomery and John Cox Biddle, young men of great ability and promise, and greatly endeared to their classmates. During the year the angel of death has borne away to another and a better world two men intimately connected with the University: Benjamin Gerhard, Esq., for many years a Trustee, and the Right Reverend Bishop De Lancey, formerly Provost. Mr. Gerhard laboured faithfully for the good of the Institution which in youth had educated him, and unlike many of the Board, he sent his sons to it, and not to other colleges. The gentleman elected to fill the vacancy has never had the slightest connection with the University. The Board of Trustees seem entirely opposed to electing an alumnus or graduate, and his Honour the Mayor of the city is selected.

The University Light Artillery Company is in a prosperous condition. The prize for fencing was awarded to Clement C. Dickey, of 66. On April 22d, when the President's remains were passing through the city, and when the Company held a meeting of honour—firing the minute guns—a most deplorable accident occurred, which threw a gloom over the whole University. By the premature discharge of one of the pieces, Archibald Montgomery, the first in the battery, and 67, both of whom were severely injured. Mr. Montgomery's life, for a time, was despaired of; but, by careful nursing and a good constitution, it has been spared. Mr. Love's injuries were serious, but his recovery, though tedious, is certain. Sergeant Miles called out a warning, which probably saved both from instant death. No blame attaches to any member of the Company.

The Baccalaureate Sermon before the graduating class was preached by Rev. Phillips Brooks, on Sunday evening, May 28th. The opening services were conducted by the Provost and Rev. Dr. Morton. The Hall of the University was crowded, and the occasion was an eminent success. The service of the Episcopal Church was used, with striking effect, by the Glee Club.

The Class Day of Sixty-five has been observed with such a deep sense of appreciation that no detailed account is necessary. A splendid audience—the Hall gaily festooned with flags and flowers—college music by Birgfeld—the history by Mr. McDonald—the Oration by Mr. Hodge—the Poem by Mr. Newton—the Wooden Spoon Presentation to Mr. Lewis by Mr. Montgomery—the farewell song of the class—the class and college colours—the bouquets presented to the young ladies—all these are points not to be soon forgotten, and make it the most splendid celebration which the University has ever witnessed. “Our Alma Mater.” “The Class of Sixty-five.” “The Philomathean Society.” “Our Absent Members of the Class.” “The Absent Members of the Class.” Mr. Reed read the Class Prophecy, which was full of witty sallies, and in all respects capital. At the commencement of the Medical Department in March, a class of nearly one hundred and twenty graduated. And now a few words to graduates about their Alma Mater. While other colleges receive thousands of dollars from their sons, the University receives nothing; and this although it has been spared. Why cannot some of our influential graduates move in this matter? Mr. Callaus, calling next Sunday in the Hall of the University to endow the University professorships, and to enlarge the Library? Such a call, we are sure, would meet with a liberal response.
