Have you climbed the four flights of stairs to Bennett Lounge lately? No doubt, each and every Senior has performed this feat more than once in her four years here at the University of Pennsylvania. The facilities of Bennett Club have offered many sources of entertainment and also a place for rest, relaxation, and study for numerous undergraduate women during the years of its existence.

An important part of the successful efforts of Bennett Club are carried on by the staff employed to fulfill the needs and wants of those who use and enjoy the facilities. Probably the most important link in the chain of those employed by the University to help in the operation of Bennett Club is Mrs. Edwina Briggs.

What would Bennett Club be like without Edwina? Her winning smile, warmth of enthusiasm, unselfish and never complaining attitude, and her genuine likeableness are only a very few of the traits that make Edwina so popular with all of the students.

Edwina’s service to the University, and especially to the women students, is too numerous and lengthy to mention here. However, in view of what she has done for us, during our four years of college, we, the Senior Class, dedicate our yearbook, The 1952 Dolphin, to Mrs. Edwina Briggs with sincere appreciation.
Outstanding Leaders . . .

The women students of the University are fortunate in having such a fine Dean of Women’s Staff. 114 Bennett Hall cheerfully welcomes students at any time. We are grateful to them for all they have done for us.

ADMINISTRATION

Though not as closely related to the women students as the Dean of Women’s Staff, the administration of the entire University, headed by President Harold E. Stassen in College Hall, coordinates the activities of all students enrolled.
Schools of the University . . .

Women in the School of Fine Arts, headed by Dean Perkins, are offered a liberal education as well as technical training. The program includes architecture, fine arts and music.

Women interested in nursing can receive a degree at the end of the new five year program which includes three years of hospital training. Dr. Theresa Lynch is dean of the School of Nursing.

In Memoriam

The Senior Class and the staff of the 1952 Dolphin wish to dedicate these two pages of the yearbook to the memory of Dr. Paul Howard Musser, former Chairman and Professor of English at the University of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Musser’s sudden death on November 21, 1951, came as a great shock to the students and faculty of the University. We feel that the University has suffered a tremendous loss by his death. A short resumé of his full and eventful life will reveal this loss in an illuminating way.

Dr. Musser began his secondary school education at Mercersburg Academy, attended Franklin and Marshall College and received his A.B. from the University of Pennsylvania in 1916. In later years, he also received his Ph.D. from this institution and his LL.D. from Gettysburg College.

His life was certainly an active one, and his record here at the University is quite lengthy. He started out his career as a Reader in English, became an Assist. Instructor, then an Instructor, and went on to become an Assist. Professor and then a full Professor. His administrative positions have been many—Dean of the College, Administrative Vice-President, Provost, and finally Chairman.

In addition to this, he was a member of many outstanding organizations and societies such as Phi Beta Kappa, Pennsylvania Association of Colleges and Universities, Modern Language Association, American Association of University Professors, and many others.

Dr. Paul H. Musser was not only an outstanding administrator and a fine English professor, but also a warm and beloved friend to all of the students. The University faculty and students have lost an outstanding man, but we feel we have gained much by knowing him.
Seniors
Singly and together we have come to this moment with visions. And we are here with heightened vision as well. Our personal history has been supplemented: it now contains a larger past and a more extensive present. We must pause to assess the span of our vision, to breathe momentarily and think.

Each of us brought hopes and fantasies to be tested in the brief fullness of our time here; and together we also brought a demand to be satisfied. Our hopes were for the thrills of making ideas our own, of achieving understanding. We hoped for insight into forces that have moved men. Our fantasies had formed themselves about the shapes of these ideas and the experiencing of these intuitions. We came to this place to experience a larger expanse of universe. We came to learn to interpret it, and to act upon it.

We asked to be shown the steps men have taken. We asked that these steps be made real with an infusion of imagination so that where we chose we could climb them to and learn to build upon them ourselves. We found some teachers who, when we required this, gave even more than we knew to ask: in their rigor of mind and abundance of spirit they exemplified a way of their own. There were some who were keenly alive to us, and whom we ourselves educated. Very real persons have helped satisfy our demand.

For the realization of our hopes and the testing of our fantasies we came with passions and sentiments—with the ability to experience deeply the satisfactions and the frustrations, too, of our striving for insights. It has been important for us to feel as we found direction and as we set and reset values. Little, we have discovered, has ever been significantly done without feeling.

There has been this vivid experiencing: we have our well-marked stars; and we have lived with our colder goals, also. Our energies have been directed toward all of these; and our energies have been directed toward each other.

We have discovered that there is a depth of experiencing and understanding that derives only from togetherness. And this togetherness has been one of the larger realities of the university experience—this cumulative involvement in each other. We found that with other persons who shared this sprawling orientation of ours we find direction; we could re-evaluate ourselves, our hopes and fantasies, demands, goals and values. We found that in part we ourselves were able to create our present measure of vision.

We have made much of what we brought with us. The fact of our being a class has taken on significance. It is in students that education happens, not in the student. For much as this happening of education is an individual phenomenon, it cannot occur in isolation—not even in being alone in a library. This is so because education requires a living and man-sided awareness. We have needed each other and the University as a totality both to achieve our little parcels of vision and to reinforce our conviction in ourselves. We have required all this and it has in large measure been provided. We have accepted much of it; and having adopted it and shaped it by our being, we have become more than our diplomas can signify. We have found some of our potentiality to become more. And we have some degree of vision.
AND CLASS HISTORY

By the shores of river Schuylkill
In the ancient Quaker City,
Stands a Universitatis
Known as Pennsylvaniensis
Sired by famous Father Franklin
In the bygone eighteenth century . . .

To these ivied halls of learning
Nineteen forty-eight, September,
From the country, from the city,
Flocked a band of merry freshmen—
"Class of 'Fifty-two" they called them—
Smiles and buttons were their trademark . . .

Sang they songs in Freshman Camping,
Sat they hours absorbing wisdom,
Learning Penn traditions, watching
Can-can dancing Dr. Hottel;
Heard they Mr. Stassen saying
He was but a Freshman also . . .

Chose they then their leader, Janie,
Knelt in noodles, Pirates Balling,
Learned their alpha-beta-gamma-deltas;
Pondered national elections,
Cheered Bednarik at the ball games,
Praised Olivier in "Hamlet" . . .

Baby Party bloomers blossomed,
Cider Booths at Campus Chest Night,
Freshman Class was learning, learning;
Heard a saddened Henry Wallace,
Appraised Wiggers in "Alaska,"
Frolicked at the Christmas luncheon . . .

Quaked a bit these Freshman lasses
At the looming gloom of finals,
At the thought of leaving college
Bringing grief and shame to parents—
Cracked they then their books intently,
Bloody but unbowed survived they . . .

Welcomed February classmates,
"History Ninety-six" on Skit Night,
Frosh Revue for Junior Sisters;
Shoes grew thin in PTC strike,
Trial of Cardinal Mindszenty
Sober sign of world disquiet . . .

Green grew ivy, Frosh grew less so
As the Springtime burst in blossom—
Classes lengthened; flowering gardens
Lured the dreamer by the zo pool;
Hey Day came and freshmen proudly
Changed the green for blue and silver . . .

Sophomore, they greeted Autumn
Led by peppy prexy Andy,
Merry times at Undergrad Camp
Reminiscing summer pasttimes—
Green Lane counselling, Europe touring,
Waitressing, or typing, filing . . .

Plotted evil deeds as pirates—
Captain Jud allowed no mercy—
Flogged the Frosh with moistened noodles,
Cowed them at the Inquisition;
Later proved no malice held they,
Linking classes at Soph Supper . . .

Proudly wore they creamy blazers,
Talked careers at Franklin dinner,
Doled out donuts for the Chest Drive;
Hummed a tune from "South Pacific,"
Gazed wide-eyed at glass-floored book stacks,
Creaked a bit in modern dancing . . .

Saw "Count Me In" foretell the census,
Sang the "Red and Blue" at halftimes,
Talked of schmoos and flying saucers;
One o'clock, oozed through the crowds to
Grab a bite of lunch in Bennett,
Run to myriad heelers' meetings . . .

Weekday cokes at Mom's and Penny's,
Party-hopping over weekends,
Brave ones charlestoned at the Soph Hop;
Christmas caroling on campus,
Parties for impoverished children,
Luncheon featuring Santa Cynnie . . .

New Year's Resolutions formed they
No more cutting, earnest gathering
Professorial pearls of wisdom,
A's and B's would clearly follow—
Alas for earnest resolutions
Made for but the joy of breaking! . . .

"Magazines" a Pele Mele Triumph,
Parties for the Frosh and Juniors,
Burning midnight oil for midterms;
Pan Hel and Callista formals,
Tea dances on their special weekend,
Seniors feted them at luncheon . . .

Callow Crew Day donned they skimmers,
Cheered the Phillies to the Series;
Bowling Greeners, tartaned, learned the
Highland fling for "Thomas Rhymer;"
Ivy-planting Hey Day honored
Fourteen classmates Sphinx and Key-wise
CLASS HISTORY

Half-way mark at Pennsylvania—

Junior Class returned in 'fifty
Sobered by Korean conflict,
Shouldering Big Sister program,
Picnic, booklines, registration,
Orienting Freshman sisters . . .

Joined they the Crusade for Freedom,
Gave a cheer for Bagnell's passes,
"Atomize Army" signs on saplings,
Widening of Thirty-third Street;
Rocket ships invaded campus
C.A. Bazaar turned futuristic . . .

Reaped they Autumn culture harvest—
"Fledermaus," the "Ring," and "Carmen,"
Brooding "Consul," gay "Mikado,"
"Harvey," "Cyrano," "MacBoingboing,"
"Outward Bound," by Pennsy Players,
Jubilee at Art Museum . . .

Glimpsed their brother class in straw hats
Bearing canes as manhood symbols
March to solemn Junior Chapel,
Breathed a prayer for those in Service;
Later watched the Middies marching—
Prom finalized Junior Weekend . . .

Finished hoards of bobbined argyles
Just a little late for Christmas;
Some, reminded of the Swim Test,
Bravely persevered in Weightman,
Swallowed chlorine, but rejoiced that
Passing, they might earn diploma . . .

Plunged they into major program—
Juggling hours and credits, tried to
Rule out nine-o’clocks on Mondays;
Mused on Philo, Franklin lectures,
P. N., D. P. editorials,
New Penn Lit Review explorings . . .

Yet had they their lighter moments—
Pele Mele Night skit "Seven Ages,"
Houston Hall Show, basketball games,
Newman, Hillel, C. A. socials,
Penn Pix parody on TIME and
Bennett concerts, Pan Hel songfest . . .

Nancy passed to Jane the gavel
At the closing Walnut luncheon;
Most important Hey Day thus far
Saw the Mortar Boarders’ tapped,
Marie and other leaders from the Class of Fifty-two take office . . .

Up the stately College Hall steps,
Through the oaken doors of Bennett,
Neath the odd designs of Irvine,
Passed the class at last as Seniors—
Trod the old familiar hall-ways
Just, perhaps, a shade more gravely . . .

Senior pictures, placement letters,
Strange reminders of Time's passing;
Yet the usual classes, bridge games,
Hopeful faces of the freshmen,
Blue-clad bandsmen and “Jeff Davis,”
Showed that little really changes . . .

Juliet and Romeo lived
Once again; the Mask and Wiggers
Played “Dear Doctor” at the Shubert;
Churchill triumphed over Labor,
F. B. I on trail of Penn Pix
Circulating Stassen “dollars” . . .

The Universitatis proxy
Meanwhile answered call of party,
Sought to run for Country proxy,
Took reluctant leave of absence,
Changed the Schuylkill for Potomac,
College Hall for campaign quarters . . .

Suddenly they were aware of “Last things”—final Cornell kickoff,
Rushing, Carnival, and hockey,
Christmas tea with Dr. Hottel,
Roster-fixing, weary bill lines,
Bowling Green and May Day
“Ceres” . . .

Then these Seniors noticed new things—
Wharton’s Dietrich Hall on Locust,
Members just-elect to club ranks,
Officers to fill their places,
Notices to next alumnae—
“Ah,” said they “’Tis time we’re leaving”

Final Hey Day, valedictories,
Silver link in chain of classes;
Donned they mortar board and gown, then
Slowly walked they to commencement,
Rose and heard congratulations,
Clutched the cool diploma tightly . . .

By the shores of river Schuylkill,
In the ancient Quaker City,
From the Universitatis
Known as Pennsylvaniensis
Poured the ’Fifty-two alumnae,
Saddened but a little wiser!

WSGA

Senate

The Juniors were active in class activities this year. Their first and foremost job was to carry out a Big Sister program for the Freshmen, which was done quite successfully. In addition to this, there were teas, parties, luncheons and other “fun-filled” events to be remembered.

Sphinx and Key, headed by Jeanne Hess, is the junior women’s honor society. Members are elected in May on the basis of service to the school, character and leadership qualities.
Sophomore Class Council

Remember Sophs—class companions, the fun of Pirates’ Ball, the Christmas party for underprivileged children, the Soph dinner, new blazers, Pele Mele Night, and Soph Weekend? This year the Sophs began a policy of electing co-chairmen for each function in order to distribute the work and responsibility.

The Campus Committee does publicity and secretarial work for WSGA and conducts campus tours during Freshman Week and on High School Day.
Calendar Committee

The Frosh are a busy class this year — at Pirates' Ball they combined their talents with their Big Sisters, the Juniors, to win the slow song contest. At Christmas they had a dinner with the Juniors. They are giving a valentine dinner for the Colored Children's Bureau, and they will provide class companions for the February Frosh.

The Freshman Calendar Committee is a very important function of the Freshman Class. The committee, headed by Carole Allen, makes up weekly calendars, sets up the WSGA calendar board, and also makes up a yearly calendar.

Phi Beta Kappa

PHI BETA KAPPA is the national academic honor society for liberal arts students: Excellence in scholarship, personality, leadership, and promise of future ability are the requirements for election. Election is made twice a year, in the fall from the Senior class and in the spring from the Junior class.

Delta Omicron

DELTA OMICRON, National Professional Music Fraternity, with its Delta Lambda chapter at Penn, was formed to create fellowship among students with music interests and to help promote and advance women in music. Members are elected from music majors in the College for Women, Fine Arts, and the School of Education, provided they have a “B” average in music and “C” average in their other courses.
Phi Alpha Theta — the honorary history society, requires high academic standards of its members. Meetings are held once every month, and active membership continues all through life.

Pi Mu Epsilon — High averages in mathematics is the requirement for election to this honor society.

Delta Phi Alpha — the German honor society, requires that 85 averages be maintained by the advanced German students who are members. At the monthly meetings German literature, culture, and life are discussed.

Pi Delta Phi — aims at recognition of merit in the study of French language, literature, and civilization in American universities. Various phases of French culture are discussed at the meetings.

Pi Lambda Theta — Requirements for membership in the national education honor society for women are recommendations from the department and group approval. Meetings consist of fellowship, talks, and discussions of educational affairs and social progress.
Bennett Club

A student union for Penn coeds to relax and make friends with their fellow classmates. Bennett Club is the place to play bridge, talk or listen to classical music, watch television, or study. Miss Anne B. Speirs is in charge of all activities which this year have been fashion shows, Dupont exhibits, tea dances, art exhibits, and the innovation of a music room.

Sargeant Hall

This year of 1951-52 the girls' dorms acted as hostesses for two dances, one for Fraternities and the other for the Law School, in addition to two open houses. A "Brain Banquet" for those girls who made the Dean's list, a Senior Banquet, Monthly Pajama Parties, the Annual Freshman Pajama Party, and the Monthly Birthday Dinners were all gala affairs.
Newman Club has something new to offer this year ... a chapel for services. There are communion breakfasts, socials and discussions for the benefit of the students. Many of the Newmanites have worked in the Settlement Houses this year in addition to other activities.
Hillel has offered many things to its members this year... film festivals, parties, fireside chats with Rabbi Gordon and Sabbath services. Hillel has built up a fine collection of books and records which can be utilized at any time.

Christian Association

At the CA we wiled away free evenings in square dancing and the regular Saturday dances. We had fun raising money through our “Christmas Round The World” Bazaar and we worked together as “members of one body.” We worshipped in daily matins and special seasonal services. We studied in Bible classes and a Seminar on Prayer. We held a famous debate on the Pechan Bill, served an international Christmas dinner, met for denominational luncheons, initiated a program of student visitation, worked in settlements, and recruited counselors for Green Lane. A year's thanks to Ann Graybill.

Sign up here to heel for the Dolphin-Get in the swim.

Under the capable leadership of Joanne Mateer, The Dolphin, which makes its debut in the spring of each year, aims to put down in picture and writing a history of the life of a Penn coed during one year. In the basement room of Bennet Hall, the staff is hard at work constantly to meet the ever present deadlines.

The Penn News has tried to stimulate student thinking on issues of national and state significance. Special attention was paid to the question of the Loyalty Bill. The sounding board on the feature page has aired controversial issues around campus, such as Orientation Classes and the Semester Credit System. In the Xmas issue, special features included the Personal Philosophies of Four Professors at Penn and a discussion of the place of Women on the Penn Campus.
Bowling Green

This spring Bowling Green, the women's dramatic organization, presented their annual colorful production on May Day. The crowning of the May Queen, chosen from the Senior class, was the climax of this colorful spectacle. With a cast of more than fifty, their pantomine production offered unlimited opportunities in characterization, creative dance, and pageantry. The Morris Arboretum was the setting of this annual spectacle which Penn students and friends enjoyed.

Bowling Green in Production
The Pennsylvania Players, whose activity centers in that overflowing office in Irvine, highlighted the year with their December production of "Romeo and Juliet" under the direction of Miss Katherin C. Quinn. In trying for professional standards in their work, the Players have provided an outlet for the many creative talents of Penn Students, and have contributed to the entertainment of the entire student body.

Irvine Auditorium

Pennsylvania’s musical organizations have gained recognition in Irvine Auditorium as well as in churches and the Academy of Music. The Choral Society presented "Requiem" by Guiseppe Verdi in conjunction with Temple University and the Philadelphia Orchestra. In November they traveled to New York’s Carnegie Hall with director Robert Godsall. The women students who participated in the various musical groups on campus received great enjoyment from this type of activity.

The chimes ring out from Irvine Auditorium every hour on the hour. Many of Penn’s activities go on in Irvine — monthly chapel services, Penn Players Productions, Mask and Wig Shows, musical concerts, Campus Chest Rallies, etc. Irvine Auditorium will long live in our memories as an important part in our campus life.
Callista

Callista, which was organized to give the non-affiliated women on campus opportunity for fellowship and social activities, had a full agenda this year... teas, picnics, hikes, and dances. In addition to publishing their own newspaper, "Clipboard" they participated in WSGA and intramural sports.

Nursing Education Society

One of the aims of the Nursing Education Society is to combine the applied with the academic. It is chiefly a guidance organization to aid the student who has her R.N. in selecting a particular branch of nursing. Night meetings are held featuring outstanding speakers from the nursing field.

Sports
Athlon

The honorary athletic society, Athlon, is open to all outstanding athletes who have earned enough athletic credits through membership on the varsity or junior varsity of several major or minor sports. Marion Musgrave, president, and Mrs. Welsh, advisor, head the organization and conduct the meetings.

The Women's Athletic Association, headed by Kacky Labrum, consists of one representative from each class, the team captains and managers. The group discusses the various athletic functions of the University and plans programs for intramural, intrafraternity and interclass competition.
Those exhausting afternoon practices, paced by Virginia Crook and Rachael Funk, were well rewarded by the selection of five team members: Captain Marion Musgrave, Shelia McHugh, Hannah Roberts, Jean Schafer, and Lois Dilks to the All-College hockey team.

Basketball "bounce pass"

The all important bywords of every U. of P. basketball game were speed, action, and spirit. Quick passes and accurate shots were especially stressed in early practices while skill and spirit stimulated the team with a compact defense and fast aggression. Rapidly perfecting the techniques of the game, the Penn squad played with a smooth style and confident resolution that brought an enthusiastic response from the sidelines.

The season opened when the squad, coached by Mrs. Welsh and Miss Funk and captained by Mickey Hawk, played their first rival, Bryn Mawr.

Swimming  "take your marks"

The prospects for this season’s swimming team were considered the best in many years. With the return of a number of varsity members and the keen competition furnished by the new recruits, Dorrie Dannenhirsch’s able coaching was rewarded with a highly satisfactory season. Sparked on by their newly adopted six-year-old mascot, Lyn Hopkins, whose brother was the mascot of the men’s team, the squad came out on top of its difficult schedule.

Back and forth across the net!

Softball

With home run leader, Lois Dilks, and top consistent fielder, Mickey Hawk, returning to the squad, Mrs. Welsh's team is hoping to defeat, besides their other rivals, an Ursinus squad which has seldom lost in the past few years.

Tennis

Ann Dietrich, top seeded member of last year's squad, should retain that position this season and be a major factor in making Miss Burdick's team successful. With Bryn Mawr on the schedule again, the girls hope to revenge their only loss last season.
Lacrosse

In the '51 season Coach Ray Funk’s squad was graced by an All-American, Gayle Meacham. Her loss leaves a large gap to fill, but this season’s team can boast of a number of veterans who should furnish stiff competition for their opponents.

Archery

Mrs. Farquahar’s squad is hoping for better weather this season than they had last year. Despite the graduation of Captain Sue Budd, the team anticipates a good season.

Miss Lysle's badminton team, captained by Ann Savage, offered tough competition to its opponents during the season. The fourteen man squad had numerous afternoon practice sessions and well deserved their awards.

Modern Dance

"leap"

The dance group, directed by Miss Taiz, had a large program this year containing such features as a demonstration for the music department, a concert for Bennet Club, and performances for Schoolmen's Week and the Cultural Olympics.

Golf

"fore"

Winning two out of their three scheduled matches last year, Miss Lysle's golf team hopes to do even better this season and may place first in the Round Robin held at Philadelphia Cricket Club.

Riflery

“fire”

Coach Turner’s team will have to be very sharp to repeat last season’s undefeated record, but with marksmen such as Captain Carolyn Partain, who holds a national rating of expert, the squad should be very successful.

Fencing

“lunge”

The fencing team, with such outstanding members as Lois Benson and Dodie Thayer, had a very successful season this year.

Bowling

“strike”

The bowling team, led by Martha Biemuller, Jean Neal, and Ann Brown, has two scheduled matches with Drexel and two with Temple with the possibility of opposing Rider College, Merion Cricket Club, and Cynwyd Club.

Pan Hellenic

Pan Hel is an organization established to maintain good interfraternity relationships and to keep fraternity life on a high level.

Two members are chosen from each fraternity to meet weekly to discuss mutual problems of fraternity standards, social affairs, scholarship, rushing, etc.

Under the leadership of Frances Carans, Pan Hel sponsors such things as I-F basketball, the annual song contest, mass pledge meetings, exchange dinners, and over all participation in all campus activities.

The editor and the staff of the 1952 Dolphin wish to express their thanks to all those who helped to make this yearbook possible. We are especially grateful to Mr. Herman Doh, Graduate Manager of Publications, for his helpful advice and to Miss Anna Rankin Harris, for her welcome words of calm and assurance when things were in an uproar. Last but certainly not least, we want to thank Rembrandt Studios, Philadelphia, and Campus Publishing Co. for their cooperation—and a special word of thanks from the editor to Edward Ursprung whose words of advice and cheerful disposition were a tremendous help.
